Featuring ERGON, a Tier III Corporate Member

Many of the most recognizable tire, rubber compounding and adhesive brands rely on Ergon's HyPrene Process Oils. As the world's largest manufacturer of naphthenic specialty oils, which are beneficial in green tire applications, Ergon is well positioned to serve markets impacted by evolving clean product requirements. The company has developed a network of strategically located refineries and terminals, allowing for efficient delivery of solutions worldwide. The most recent addition was a terminal in Ulsan, South Korea, pictured below. Founded in 1954, Ergon is known for product quality, security of supply, and unparalleled customer service.
